Dr. Rubin’s work inspires cartoonist

Dr. Clinton Rubin's pioneering work on mechanical biasing of stem cells away from fat and towards bone, has inspired cartoonist Nicole Hollander to capture the "translational essence" of the work. The two-panel cartoon strip titled "Sylvia" was around the world, on May 5, 2008.

Cartoon Posted with permission of N. Hollander.